

Now in its 13th Year HEYHA Copper Saucepan Award for the Apprentice Chef of the Year 2019

To the Proprietor, Head Chef or Manager:

Is the winner of the HEYHA Copper Saucepan Award for the Apprentice Chef of the Year 2018 working in your establishment?

Previous winners:

- 2007 – Danny Holt, Lazaat
- 2008 – Kevin Riding, Beverley Tickton Grange
- 2009 – Shane Tate, Lairgate Hotel
- 2010 – Jamie Park, Pipe & Glass
- 2011- Alex James – The Millhouse Restaurant
- 2012 – Michael Flower, Hallmark Hotel
- 2013 – Matthew Lee, Pipe & Glass
- 2014 – Michael Moughton, The Star @Sancton
- 2015 – James Workman, Light Dragoon
- 2016 – Connor Berney, Ashbourne Hotel
- 2017 – Ellie Tuttle, Ceruttis
- 2018 – Helen Mayoh, AAK UK Ltd

Please find enclosed the application form for this year's competition.

The final two candidates will take part in a live final on the main stage at the 2019 Beverley Food Festival on Sunday 6th October.

As well as the Award and a £350 cash prize for the winner and £150 for the runner-up, both will have a day's experience working alongside Colin McGurran Chef Patron and Gaz Bartram, in the kitchen of the award-winning Wiveringham Fields Restaurant.

This year's cooking challenge for chosen competitors will be at East Riding College on 8th July with local media coverage.

Please encourage your young people to send in an application form with their menu before 3rd June.

For more details and additional forms which can be downloaded, check the Hull and East Yorkshire Hospitality Association website: www.heyha.co.uk, @HEYHANews, the East Riding College www.eastridingcollege.ac.uk or the Beverley Town Council website: www.beverley.gov.uk

Helen Watson (Beverley Food Festival, Town Clerk, Beverley Town Council),
Paul Vinsen (Chairman, HEYHA),
David Leaf Curriculum Leader East Riding College Hospitality Sector
and Roy Woodcock (Food Writer and Freelance Journalist).

Sponsors of the Cash Prizes for the Winner and Runner Up Copper Saucepan 2019

A.E. PURDY LTD.
Specialist Suppliers of Fresh Fish

TELEPHONE
01482
324452